COLUMBIA LETTER.

Columbia, January 23.—The greater part of this week in the Legislature was taken up with the elections. They are all off now and there is plain sailing ahead of the law makers. All of Tuesday was taken up with the elections and an afternoon and might session were held. There were very few changes where the incumbent stood for re-election. The old board of State dispensary directors were re-elected, though a strong fight was made against Evans and Dukes. In fact there seemed to be more interest centered around this election than any other.

Mr. H. H. Evans of our town was continued on the board and received a very complimentary vote. In fact "Hub" seems to hold his own remark. ably well with the members of the Legislature. It will be remembered that two years ago he headed the ticket for the same position.

I am very glad that Miss LaBorde was unanimously elected State librarian. There was some talk of opposition but presume when it was found how popular she was the others thought best to retire. She is a very competent and a very deserving young woman.

The redistricting bills were taken up in the house yesterday and several speeches made but nothing as yet has been decided upon. The trouble is going to be to get the districts so arranged as to fit the political aspirations and abitions of the various members of the Legislature who have prospects of becoming congressmen. Something should be done and I believe will be at this session.

The senate has been discussing the jury law. It is important that some jury law be passed, as there can be no courts until it is done, that is to say no courts with jury trials, for the supreme court has declared the present jury law unconstitutional.

Hon, W. F. Stevenson, the present speaker of the house and the member from Chesterfield, announces that h will be a candidate for attorney general during the campaign the coming summer. He says he proposes to re sign the positions he holds as bank president and railroad attorney so that if elected his entire time will belong to the people. He will be opposed for the position by Col. I'. X. Gunter, the present assistant attorney general. The supreme coutt has just confirmed the opinion of Mr. Gunter as to the school charts sold over the State a few years

There will be plenty of candidates for all the positions to be filled. At least that is the outlook at present.

diers' home in accordance with the suggestions contained in the governor's message has been introduced. It carries an appropriation of $25,000 if se much be necessary. I do not believe there will be many old soldlers who will care to leave home and kindred to go to a home, however comfortable, yet we have heard so much of it in the last few years that I think it well to have the home built. Under the proposed arrangement the buildings when no longer needed for the purpose of a home may be and will be utilized by the State for other purposes. I am satisfied there are Confederate soldiers who would be entitled to enter the State home, but who would rather remain in their present home and receive $75 or $100 aid from the State than to enter the State home at a cost to the State of from $150 to $200.

I regret to see the usually complacent and gentlemanly Observer so far forget the amenities of life as to say unkind and uppleasant things about the post office officials at Newberry especially when there was absolutely no reason or justification in such a display of passion. The Observer man is evidently possessed of sufficient intelligence to know that the supplement which he says was refused admission by the postoffice on Tuesday did not comply with the postal rules and regulations. Of course I take it for granted he read there rules before saying such unkind things about the officials, I am satisfied in his calmer moments he will be utterly ashamed of his display of passion and will apologize to the postoffice officials. He must be bilious. He should send for a case of Glenn Springs water and then drink freely. I am very sorry to see our contemporary cutting up such antics, and I trust he will give ear to the statement which I presume the post- ffice officials will

I have been sick the greater part of this week and this letter is written from my bed. When the Legislature between an extra edition of a paper and came extra heat was put on the State a supplement to a paper, and he should capitol and the offices have been not let his anger, caused by being left in Tuesday, January 14, 1902, and each kept too hot and just outside the State furnishing his readers the news, cause Tuesday thereafter during the winter house on a cold day is the coldest place him to misstate the facts in order to buse in the State. A fine opportunity is the postmaster. He should at least state thus given to take cold and many take the facts. The Herald and News issued advantage of the opportunity without intending it and without knowing it until it is too late.

The Legislature is invited to go to Augusta tomorrow to attend a good roads convention in session there The invitation was declined as many of the members did not believe they could afford to lose the time. Still a good number will go. There is to be a good roads convention in Columbia next week, on the 30th and 31st. This will be a good time for the Newberry people to comdown and sec how good roads are

NO POFFICIAL DISCRIMINATIONS The Observer owes it to its sub-criber explain why its supplements of last week were so late in reaching them he expl. action is this: When the supplements came on Tues ty at midday we went at once to the astotice and inquired of Assistant Postaster Bowman Acting Postmaster Bynam not being in if we could send the supplements out that night. He replied tively that we could not that the law did not permit it. There was nothing else for us to do but wait for the regular ssue of Friday, and the supplements ay in our office until Thursday night. and were mailed with the regular Friday paper. Accidentally we discovered on Thursday night that, while The Observer supplements had been refused admission on Tuesday, the Herald and News supplements, which were also the overnor's message, were permitted to go through the postoffice that night. So that it was not our fault at all that the Herald and News recilers received their supplements two days earlier than our received theirs; it was a piece of favoritism on the part of the postoffice.

Such discrimination is not only a vie m of the postal law, but is a violaion of all official decency. not much satisfaction in saying this, bar about all the redress that we can ge for being served so contemptible a trick We hope the new administration will administer the affairs of the office with out partiality.—Observer, Jan 21.

The explanation of the above article is his. The Observer was badly beaten by the Herald an New in giving its sub scribers the annual message of the governor and instead of acknowledging its defeat and resolving to do better next time, has fallen out with the postmaster bout it. We have no inte matter at all except to state and to prove the confavoritism was shown this paper by the postoffice, and to correct a misstatement in regard to the Herald and News, and we are sorry that our contemporary belches up so much venom simply because "The Herald and News readers received their supplements two days earlier than ours received theirs." The Herald and News did not print: 'supplement" to its issue of January 13th. It gave the governor's message to its readers in an extra edition of the paper dated on January 14th and mailed the same day. The postal law on the subject of extra editions is as follows: "Extra editions, manifestly issued for the purpose of communicating additional news or imparting additional information germane to the publication, and not for advertising purposes, or as a special independent issue, are mailable at the second-class rate." Under this section of the postal law it is clear that of the paper, which it was, The Observer printed a supplement giving the governor's message. That supplement was dated the 17th of January, and was headed "Supplement to The Newberry Observer," and was, therefore, a supplement to the regular issue of the Observer of Friday, January 17. The postal law on the subject of supplements is as follows: "Supplements must, as the law requires, be folded with the regular issues they purport to supplement. If mailed otherwise postage must be prepaid at the third class rate." "Supplements must in all cases bear * * * the date corresponding to the regular issue." From this it will be seen that the Observer's supplements could not, under the law, have been mailed until Friday, the 17th, the date which they bore. There was no "discrimination" and no "favoritism" on the part of the postoffice authorities in the matter. They simply obeyed the law as they were sworn to do. The editor of the Observer should have learned by this time the difference no supplement If the Observer intended to send the governor's message to its readers on Tuesday, the 14th, then why did it have its supplements, containing that message will be transacted with the public after A great many Newberry people have its supplements, containing that message been here again this week. I am always dated Friday, the 17th? And if the Ob- Banks will please take notice of this glad to see them. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. server intended to give its readers the change, and transact their business be-Evens passed through on Tuesday en governor's message on Tuesday, the 14th, fore that hour.

then why did it not send its supplements to its subscribers who live in the city of Newberry? Certainly no "favoritism" on the part of the postoffice department kept it from doing this.

The only interest we have in the matter, however, is to show that no "favoritism" was shown this paper. The postoffice authorities did not know this office was going to issue an extra edition of the paper until it was sent to the office to be mailed. It complied with the laws regulating iew-paper postage because it was an extra edition of the paper dated the day on which it was mailed. The Observer's supplement did not comply with the law secause it was a supplement to the issue of the Observer of January 17th and under the law quoted above, could not be mailed on the 14th. It makes little difference to us when the Observer gives its readers the news. We have nothing whatever to do with that. But when the Observer gets badly beaten by a cotemporary it should not get mad at the postmaster In this instance it was simply a case of one paper complying with the law and etting its extra edition sent through the postoffice and giving its readers the new while it was news, and of another pape ailing to comply with the law and failing to give its readers the news and then getting mad with the postmaster.

IN NEWBERRY.

Mr. Galloway, of the A. R. Presbyterian Visits Newberry and Has Something Pleasant to Say of Us.

We spent two hours in Newberry last week. Were on Newspaper Row. I comes natural to visit a newspaper ofice. We came first to the office of the Observer and the Lutheran Visitor, Edifor Wallace was busy writing chaste and elegant editorials Mr. Houseal was full of work on the Visitor. Both of these sen are elegant gentlemen and an ornament to their profession. We always get a warm greeting at this office. The Observer has just equipped its office with new machinery -press, engine, & c. Their new Metz & Wiess kesosene en rine is a daisy.

The Herald and News has moved from its old stand across the street in front of the post office into more extensive quarters. We spent a few mo ments in this office. Found the editors absert Mr. Aull's younger brother has charge of the business in his absence in Columbia. The office seems to be well equipped and prepared for all kinds of business.

We are glad to find Dr. McClintock entirely wall gain. Shook hands with Mr. M. A. Ca. de, Mr. Foster Martin and Mr. Edwin Carlisle. These gentle men were busy at work in the bank and Carolina Manufacturing Company. A. R. Presbyterian, 22nd.

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP. A Little Boy's Life Saved-

I have a few words to say regarding 'hamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from E. A. Steere of Goodwyn, S., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phtegm out of his mouth in great long I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today. Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made-and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health.

No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represent: the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample-
